Yearbook

When one's days are numbered, he is more apt to savour the time remaining, more appreciative of what he once took for granted, cherishing the everyday experiences that he once described as tiresome. So it was at Jackson High School in 1973-74. The Board of School Trustees had announced in February, 1973, its sudden decision to convert Jackson to a middle school in the fall of 1975, leaving Riley as the only high school for the southeast side of the city.

The community reacted with shock and resentment. Jackson had been built in 1965, ironically, to share the enrollment of an overcrowded Riley. Its academic, extracurricular and athletic programs were just reaching maturity, with eight National Merit Scholarship finalists that year, a reputation for top music, journalism, and dramatic productions, and two straight years of winning the All-Sports trophy of the Northern Indiana Valley Conference.

At first, morale sagged. What was the use to keep building for the future? But as school opened in the fall, a new spirit was evident: If the Board decision holds up and '74-'75 is to be a transition year, then this must be the best year. If we seek excellence, it must be now!

This book tells the story of '73-'74 . . .
THE BEST OF JACKSON.

STUDENT LIFE

Summer projects include driver education,

Few students can forget their 2-week driver ed course or summer band with an air conditioning failure forcing them out into the yard. 4-H summer projects brought honors to Jacksonites. Pam Lofgren and Valerie Marsh went to the State Fair dress revue where Valerie won a first. Joel Zimmer's steer, Obadiah, finished 3rd in a class of 21. He weighed 860 pounds and was sold at 77½ cents a pound. Vickie Marshall and her dog, Tiger-Jagen, placed 5th in state dog obedience competition. Some Jacksonites found pleasure in flying planes or riding bicycles. But whether on the ground or in the air, they made the most of a too short summer.

GARY BEREBITSKY prepares his gear for a day of riding the waves. Joel Zimmer (left) brushes down his Hereford steer, which won honors at the 4-H fair.

Junior Prom dress-up time for majority

Most couples didn't arrive at the prom until close to 10 p.m. and the high-rollers started coming in around 11. At first, the guys compared tuxedos, the girls compared formals, and everybody discussed where they went for dinner. Things started rolling when the band, Promenade, started to play. People lost inhibitions, and began dancing. All night long the band heard requests for polkas and boogie music; and for most couples, the end of their Junior Prom came too soon.

Giving shows, playing roles takes 'genius'

Too bad all the creative genius that went into pep session skits, football half-time shows, and swimathons did not always manifest itself on report cards. The band stepped out at the Fort Wayne Dwenger game with a Women's Lib show. The Homecoming pageantry helped make up for the loss of the football game on Oct. 5 to LaSalle as Principal James L. Early carried out the traditional crowning of the Queen, and the court rode around the field in the most magnificent cars the Booster Club could find. At the Homecoming pep session, an English class studying "The Spirit of Comedy" provided a take-off on a Cheech and Chong record, "Football Jones," with Dean Bassett singing soprano.

Combining salesmanship and show biz with their athletic ability, the boy and girl swim team members raised money by swimming laps in the Jackson pool, sponsored by fellow students and members of the community. Rick Rosenbaum raised $75.50 by swimming 200 continuous laps of butterfly.

COSTUMED FOR THE ROLE OF THE dominated woman, Cathy Ogden portrays "Dolly" in the band's Women's Lib show, "Hello Dolly."

Mamiko brings bit of Japan to classmates

Bicycling, once confined mainly to the annual "Little 500" fund-raising event in May, became a means of transportation for some and an invigorating pastime for many others. With the Valley Wheelers, a cycling club sponsored by the South Bend Recreation Department, junior Marty Frash pedaled 100 miles in a one-day scenic trip.

Horizons broadened in other ways. Mamiko Shiraishi brought a continuing taste of Japanese culture to her "family," the Wilsons, and to Jackson. She found that America's teens, dating, and clothing styles are "similar to those in Japan."

Craziness is indispensable part of life

There are many ways to break up the monotony of school, and in most of us, it's that little spark of craziness that makes life a little more fun. Whether it's climbing bridges, hugging favorite heroes, wearing strange hats, or making a lot of racket with your car, it takes all kinds of people to make up this school. That little spark of craziness is probably the only thing keeping us sane.

'Gotta go to work' is theme song

Employment plays an important part in education. It teaches lessons that are not taught in the school's curriculum. The on-job experience shows a student his likes, dislikes, his abilities, and ineptitudes in certain lines of work. The opening of the Scottsdale Mall provided many opportunities for Jackson students to find close part-time employment. The types of jobs varied from selling shoes to moving pianos to working in an old-fashioned deli. These jobs provide valuable experience in choosing a career later in life. In the meantime, "the money ain't too bad, either . . ."

are closed today'—snow isn't so bad

Even though there are those who can't stand the sight of snow, others welcome it with open gloves. Although it may mean sore throats and colds, snow can be made into a fun thing pretty easily. Skiing, tobogganing, snowmobiling, snowball fights, and even playing football in a foot of snow are activities even the most warm-blooded can enjoy. However, it is sort of nice to sit in the house and watch it snow all day long, or to wake up in the morning and turn on the radio just in time to hear that your favorite school has been closed. Maybe snow isn't so bad!

Fuel shortage threatens but students create own energy

The President's request for lowering the speed limit from 70 to 55 did not have much effect on Jackson students. After all, who usually drives 70 miles per hour anywhere in town? The increase in the price of gas might have affected how often Jackson students drive, and the lowering of the school's thermostats may have forced a few to wear coats in class, but there was no great inconvenience. All in all, the energy crisis did not cramp our life style. And maybe we were healthier in the long run.

THE LAYERED LOOK, popular this year in fashions, proved to be practical as well for 68-degree classrooms.

ONE ADVANTAGE of the 50-mile speed limit was more miles to a gallon.

Junior Achievement

Forty-four Jackson students were involved in Junior Achievement this year. They manufactured such products as thermometers, Ecology boxes, and even a newspaper published in the South Bend Tribune every month. The companies, each consisting of about 20 people from area high schools, began operations in late October. To finance the manufacture of their products, companies sold stock at one dollar per share. The climax of the year was a trade fair held at the Scottsdale Mall.

DESPITE RESIDENTS' protests, bulldozers cleared trees for the widening of Ironwood Road. This was necessary, officials said, to handle the Mall traffic.

South Bend gets face-lift; progress sometimes painful

Never in South Bend's history did so many dramatic changes come in one year. The whole downtown area was literally torn out, leaving some gaping holes but also the promise of a modern business and civic center and a beautiful river front. Michigan Street was closed and replaced by tree-lined pedestrian walks. On the southeast side, change was just as dramatic. Following the completion of Scottsdale Mall, new eating places sprang up all along once placid Ireland Road; and the countryside around Ironwood would never be the same again.

THE CLARK building, one of the last to fall to the wrecker's ball, is demolished by a firm named Jackson.

NEW SIGNS indicating one-way streets proved to be almost as confusing as the new traffic patterns.

1973-74 was wild year for world affairs

The year 1973-1974 was filled with earth-shaking news. To some it was bad; to others even worse. Vice-president Spiro T. Agnew's resignation, the fuel shortage, the Mideast War, the Indochina War, and the Watergate scandal were grim reminders of the pernicious state of world affairs. Some of the not-so-bad news came with the appointments of William Simon as Energy Czar, Henry Kissinger as Secretary of State, and Gerald Ford as Vice-President. Vice-president Agnew really dropped a bomb when he announced his resignation. He was under increasing pressure from Congress and the press because of alleged kickback violations when he was governor of Maryland. This and a crackdown on high officials of the Nixon Administration for past practices seem to indicate a long overdue trend toward honesty in American politics.

ACADEMICS

Classes are really what school is all about. Lectures, labs, discussions, field trips, reading, writing, thinking. Thinking? Heaven forbid! Seniors found out more than they wanted to know about Socrates and Plato and footnotes and outlines. "Outline? Oh, I'm writing that after I finish my term paper." Math students wondered if an innovation in Berkeley, Calif., would catch on here: Anyone having difficulty with computation in the Berkeley schools is given a computer calculator for instant answers. And it was fashionable this year, if one did have trouble adding and subtracting, to blame it on "the new math" that he was subjected to in elementary school.

In the business department, pupils learned a great deal about office systems, bookkeeping, accounting, and especially about Frank Pomarico, Notre Dame football captain who came from Sugar Bowl fame to student teaching at Jackson. German classes apparently were fascinated with food this year. They outdid each other in concocting such specialties as sauerkraut and fondues. Fourth period class had the natural advantage, however, as they had the lunch hour for their feast. One traditional culinary activity was somewhat curtailed, unfortunately, as a heavy snow closed school on Thursday before Christmas vacation, and the home economics classes could not bake their usual quota of Christmas cookies. Science students were disappointed in the much heralded Comet Kohoutek which, instead of blazing brighter than Halley's Comet, fizzled in the New Year and just faded away.

'English' is to appreciate and communicate

English is more than the language we all speak so glibly. It is the word connotations, the various dialects, the slang, the poetry, the essays, fiction, and folklore of America and of all the ethnic groups which have formed its culture. English students learn to appreciate others' use of the language and to communicate better themselves—sometimes through film, drama or debate, sometimes in their own publications—but always to communicate is the most important goal.

Science students 'learn by doing' in labs

Answers to the age-old question, "How did life begin?" are suggested in various theories in Biology I. Life processes characteristic of all organisms, one cell or multicellular, are studied, with emphasis on reproduction, respiration, inheritance and digestion in all life forms. Biology II includes fetal pig dissection and microbiology as well as ecology and genetics.

Chemistry I students learn the periodic law, the mole concept, and the quantities all things are measured in. This year Chemistry II was reinstated to expand on the concepts of Chemistry I.

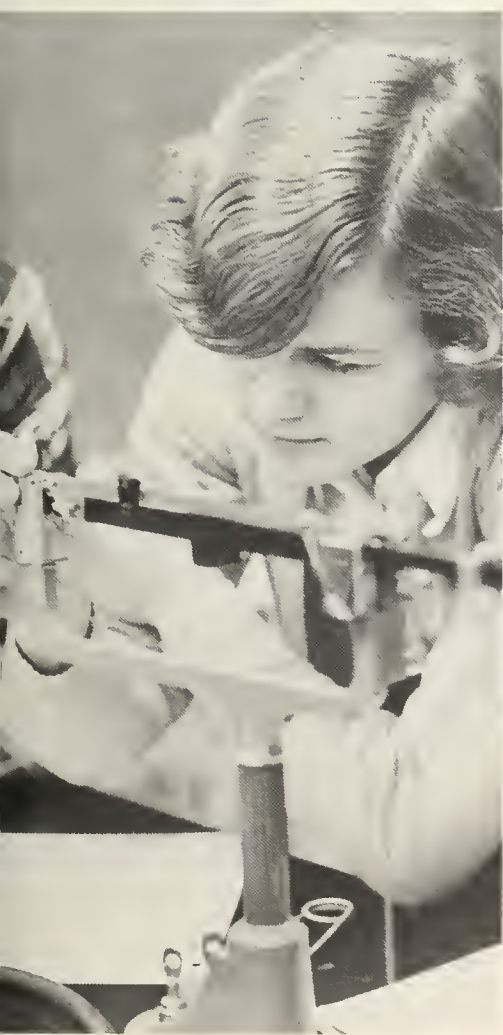

The Earth Science classes deal with the earth's geology, meteorology and hydrosphere. In connection with a unit in astronomy, Earth Science students viewed a sky show at the local Kennedy School Planetarium.

Foreign languages prepare world travelers

With world travel on the increase, the demand to speak the languages of our neighbors is met with French, German, Latin, and Spanish being taught at Jackson.

Along with teaching the languages themselves, each class introduces the students to traditional holiday customs and other celebrations. Each class reenacts the celebration of Christmas in the respective countries. The Latin class had their annual "Saturnalia" in December. German classes had candlelighted fondue parties and their annual "Octoberfest."

TEACHING, as Latin student Michele Pearson finds, is part of learning.

Music and art give personal satisfaction

The fine arts— an expression of creativity. One looks back at the long hours spent on his masterpiece, the sacrifices made, the working out of sour notes or perfecting the lines and curves of a drawing, until that perfect balance between individualism and uniformity is reached. To work on a piece of music or art and mold it and shape it into a final product gives that sense of accomplishment that no one can take away.

Add them all together, and they spell S-H-O-P. Although this may seem to the novice to be somewhat of an exaggeration, those experienced in shop classes know it's all too true. But when the blood-sweat-and-tears disappear, a well made cabinet, a perfectly tuned motor, or a design above all others may have evolved.

High cost of living challenges homemakers

Learning to economize was the goal of this year's home economics classes. Foods classes studied nutrition and the preparation of food in ways to get their money's worth. Clothing project requirements ranged from skirts and blouses to the tailoring of suits.

Family living classes studied ways to cope with problems faced by average families. They also studied housing and real estate. Buying furnishings for the home can be an easier task with help from the consumer guide book. Marriage and child care were also discussed.

Look out, computerized world, here we come!

The business department is doing its share to prepare Jacksonites for today's computerized world. More students take typing than any other business course, since knowledge of the typewriter keyboard is the starting point for work in hundreds of business and industrial fields.

Future office workers become familiar with modern machines and techniques in such courses as Office Training and Data Processing. But the time-tested skill of shorthand still comes in for its share of attention. Through the Cooperative Office Education program, students leave school at noon to work in offices.

Coed gym classes take bowling 'field trip'

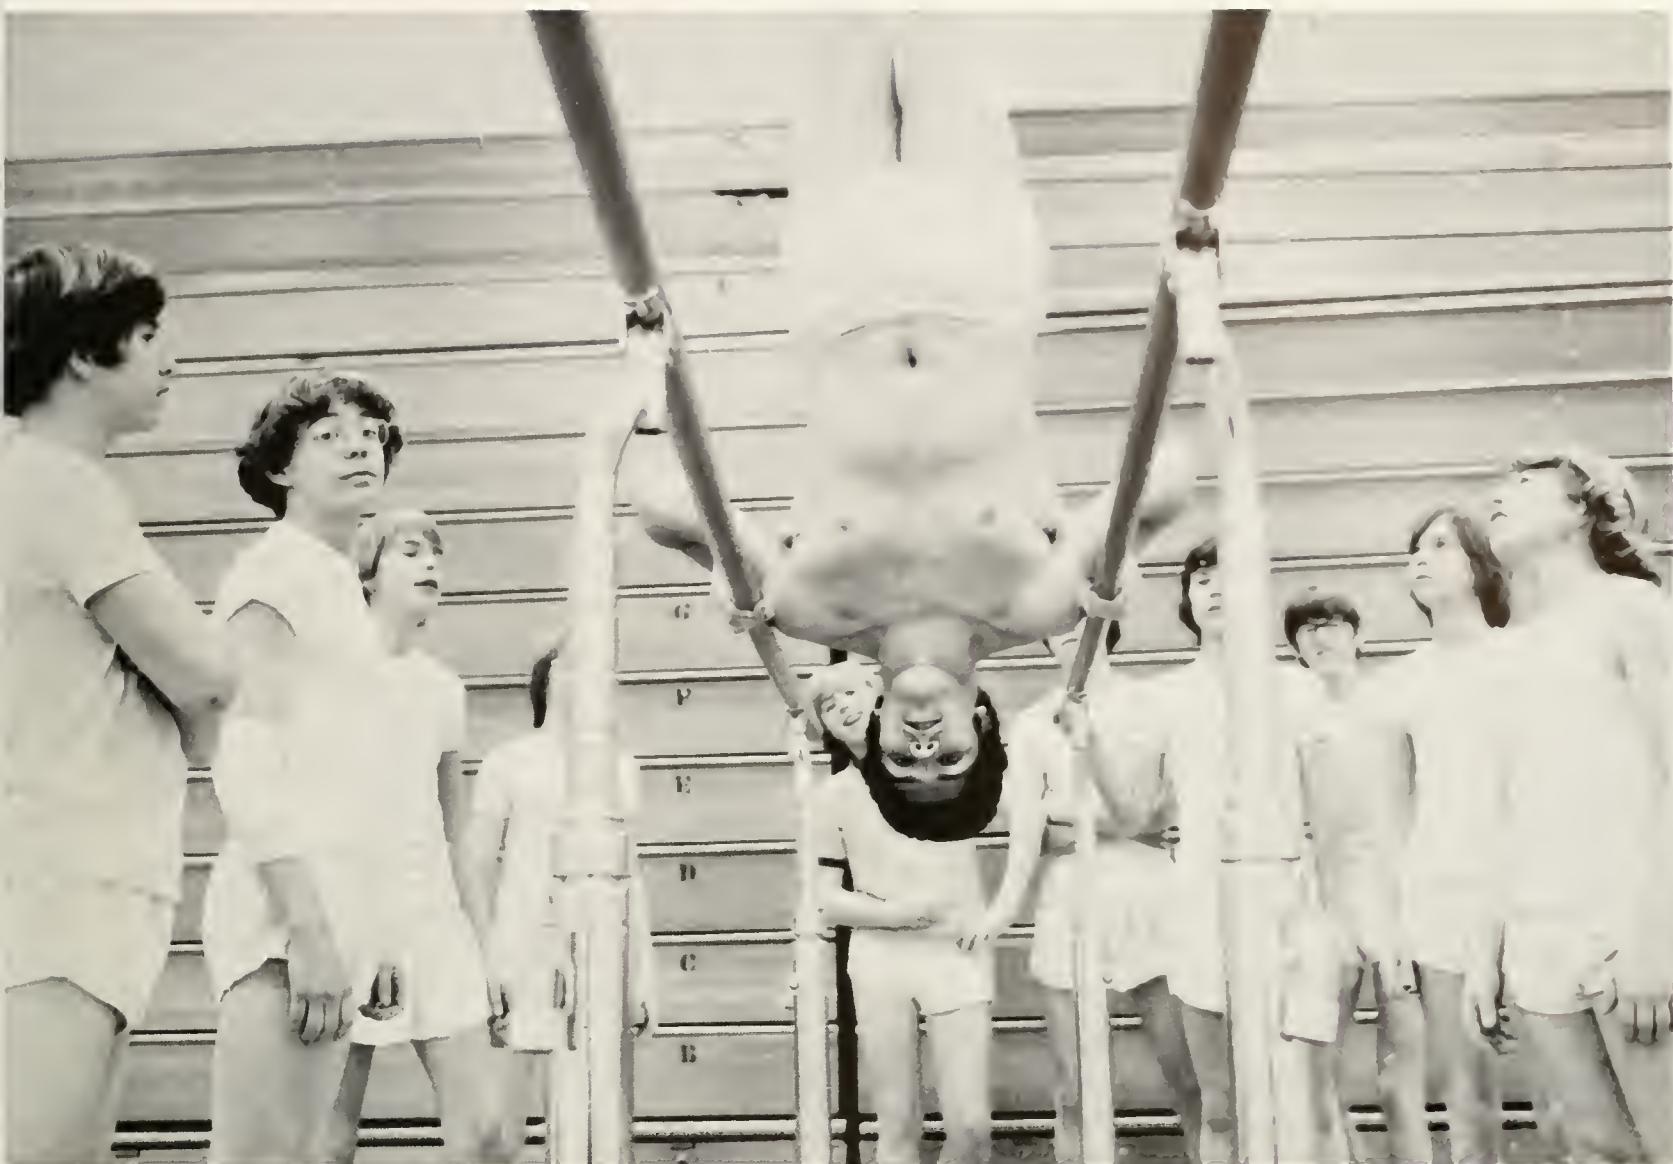

This year coed gym classes were initiated for bowling, badminton, and folk dancing. They took a "field trip" to Chippewa Lanes for a morning of bowling! Regular classes were also taught in tumbling, swimming and volleyball. Freshmen who had taken physical ed. five periods a week last year got a break and were not required to take it their sophomore year.

In health class students were taught the practice of first-aid, mental hygiene and driver safety techniques.

THE BEST OF ACTIVITIES

THE YEAR OF THE TIGER

With the exception of dramatics, extracurricular activities seemed to be on the wane at Jackson. Bus transportation has always dictated the schedules of many students; and now more and more part-time jobs are occupying the after-school hours formerly spent in clubs and other school-related activities. "Guardian angels" often could be seen in the halls decorating athletes' lockers long after everyone else had left. Their handiwork of crepe paper, wall paper, and optimistic slogans made the outside of the lockers as interesting as the candy bars and homemade brownies made the inside.

Band and orchestra members and vocal music students received academic credit for their efforts, but they also gave many extra hours to performances and contests and the practicing for each. Publications staffers attended seminars and summer workshops to sharpen their skills. Most spent an hour a day on newspaper or yearbook production and were thankful for weekends "to catch up."

Students continued to serve the school as librarians, audio-visual operators, ushers, and office help. Some took leading roles in DECA, VICA, and COE, national clubs associated with the cooperative education program. Others assisted in athletics as timers, judges, "mat maids," or "Cinderellas." Such optional activities gave school an extra dimension for those who took part . . .

Student Council refuses to 'play dead'

The decision to make Jackson a middle school has led some people to subscribe to the idea of "Why try to make things better, because in a year, Jackson High School won't be here any more?" Despite this attitude, Student Council carried out a number of projects, although they were plagued, as always, by lack of student body support. One of the innovations of this year's Council concerns people who were not elected from their homerooms as Senators, but wanted to be in Student Council. If they explained to the satisfaction of a Board why they believed they should be in Student Council, they could become members.

To give students more activities during the lunch period, the Council purchased a ping pong table and placed it in the gym.

Senior band members honor Mr. DeShone

Highlighting the band's marching season this year was a half-time show with the seniors honoring Mr. DeShone. Mr. DeShone also received awards from School Musician Magazine and the mayor for his outstanding contribution as the school's only head band director. Another show included the entire band tap-dancing to "Tea for Two." Practicing at 7 a.m. in both rain and snow, the band showed its pride and determination. Annual activities included a money-raising chili supper and a chicken barbeque in the spring.

ALTHOUGH THE NIGHT was rainy and the crowd was small, the band proudly formed Mr. DeShone's initials, T. J.

musicals 'Music Man' and 'Dunderhead'

Drama at Jackson reached a high point in November with production of "The Music Man" by Meredith Willson. Many precedents were broken: the play was the first to cast faculty, it required the largest amount of money for royalties, and it utilized a greater number of cast members than any previous play. A total of four performances were "experienced" by full houses. (see pages 103-106).

"Dunderhead," a children's musical which is a combination of fairy tales, was also performed this year. Besides providing entertainment for children (and adults) this play was also a prototype for an annual play which would provide a scholarship for a senior who plans drama as a career. Both musicals were directed by John H. B. Kauss and choreographed by Mrs. Nancy Stroop.

Old Hickory faces challenge of meeting weekly deadlines

Under the guiding eyes of editor-in-chief Randy Smith, the Old Hickory told the news of Jackson each Friday. The paper received a Quill and Scroll International Honor Rating and the George H. Gallup Award, and also first place in the American Lung Association School Press project for the third straight year. Photographer Scott Shmikler won two first place trophies at the annual Michiana High School Journalism Seminar at Notre Dame. Eight editors and staff writers were elected to Quill and Scroll.

'Largest Jacksonian yet' boasts fold-ins

When the 1974 Jacksonian arrived in May, the staff got together in the gym for a massive "fold-in". Pages 3, 6, 103, and 106 had to be folded inward in each of the 1200 yearbooks before the time of the annual autograph party. Thus, the finishing touch was put on the largest book in Jackson's history.

Four senior photographers vied for the most photo credits in the '74 Jacksonian, while also supplying the Old Hickory's weekly needs.

THE BEST OF SPORTS

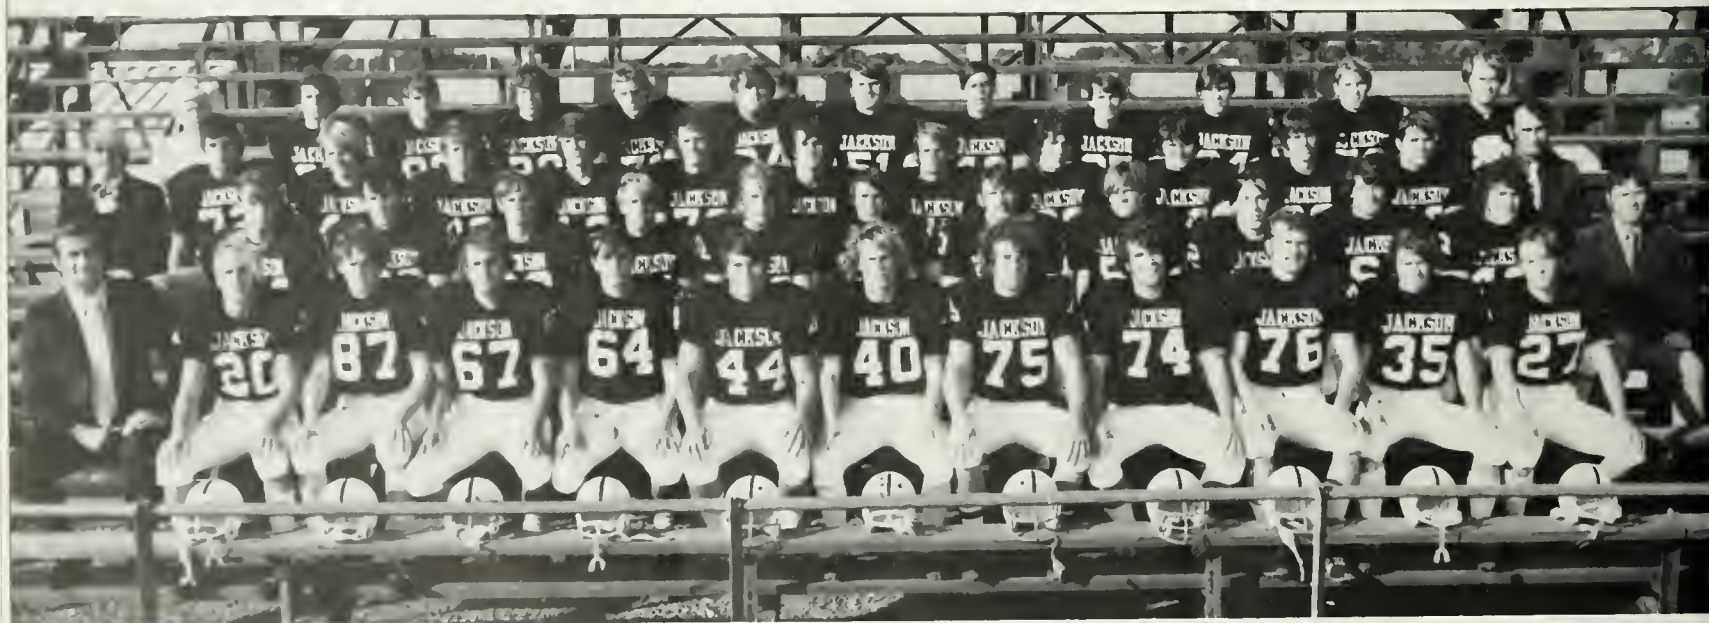

Many important developments have taken place on the sports scene this year. Mr. Wally Gartee resigned as head football coach after eight years of coaching. The task of coaching the team for their final two years fell upon Mr. Dale Rems, formerly assistant coach.

Also, with the news that Jackson would no longer be a high school came a decision to disband the Northern Indiana Valley Conference. After a meeting of NIVC member schools, it was decided that continuing the conference or finding another member was not feasible. Each school was instructed to either join a new conference or become an independent after the 1974-1975 season. Good news in sports for the year came when it was announced that Jackson had won the All Sports Trophy for the second year in a row. This award is given to the NIVC member school with the best overall performance in all nine sports. It took the mighty Tigers to break the domination of All Sports award by Penn who is the only other school ever to hold the award. It is too bad that Jackson has only one more year left. The Tigers were just beginning to pick up steam and receive state-wide recognition in sports.

Tigers have new head coach in last year of conference

Under new head coach, Mr. Dale Rems, the Tigers finished the season 3-6. Three of the team's six losses came from teams highly ranked in state polls. In the fall Jamboree the Tigers beat the state champion Washington Panthers.

Highlighting the season were two exciting plays by Dave MacHatton and Ron Metcalfe. Against St. Joe, MacHatton batted down a pitch-out, recovered it, and returned it 75 yards for a touchdown. Against Clay, Ron Metcalfe returned a punt for 85 yards.

Cross country runners take second sectional in a row

Jackson's cross country runners finished one of their finest seasons ever with a 10-2 record. In conference meets the Tigers were 4-1 with their only loss coming from the NIVC champion LaSalle Lions. The Tigers placed first in the sectional for the second year in a row. They placed four runners in the top fourteen places, beating LaSalle 62-86.

The Tigers placed second in the city meet, and claimed the individual city championship for the second consecutive year. Captain Jamie Hillman turned in his best time of 13:04 in the sectional to win the individual title.

Tennis team nets another great season

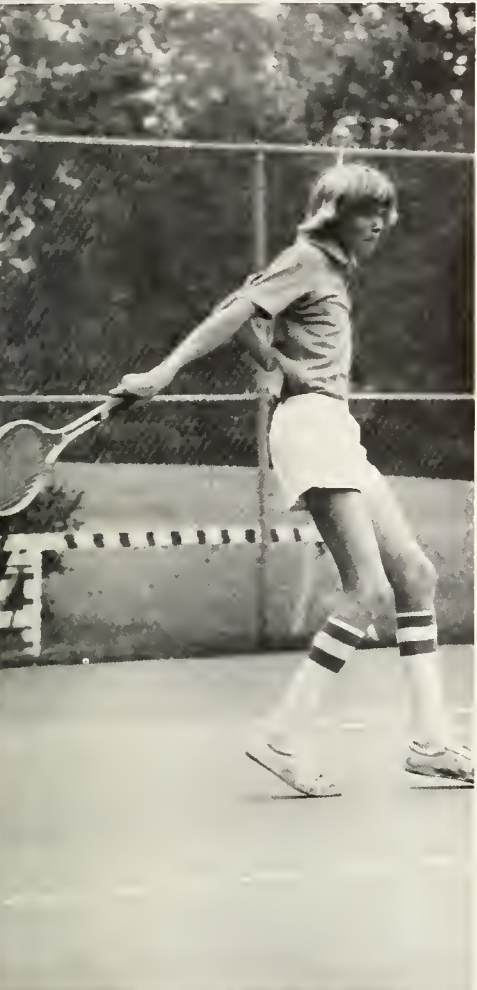

The 1973 Jackson tennis team climaxed their 10-3 season by winning their first sectional. The Tigers collected 24 points, edging out Michigan City Rogers and Adams who finished with 23 and 22 points respectively. Besides capturing the team title, the netmen produced their first individual champions. Don Bauer and Mark Rosheck won the doubles and placed second at the regional.

The Tigers won their fourth consecutive NIVC crown and posted a perfect 6-0 record against conference opponents. For the second year in a row the netmen swept the NIVC singles meet as Bauer, Rosheck, Brown, Trenkner, and Crofoot all won their respective matches.

Basketball Tigers stronger than 7-14 record indicates

The 1973-74 Jackson basketball team compiled a somewhat disappointing 7-14 season record. However, that record is not really indicative of how competitive the Tigers were. They lost two games in overtime and four others by six points or less against some of the toughest competition in the state. The Tigers were involved in one of the most unusual sectional basketball games in recent history when they shut out North Liberty for the first 14:01 of the game, led by as much as 17-0, and then coasted to an easy victory.

Young Tiger wrestling team finishes with 7-3 record

This year's team accomplished something that Coach Dale Rems has been after for nine years, a conference championship. Penn and LaSalle shared the title with Jackson, all owning a 4-1 conference record.

For the third straight year, Jackson ruined Brandywine's perfect record, and beat LaSalle for the first time in the school's for the first time in the school's history. Eleven wrestlers placed in the conference meet with two emerging as individual champs (Koepkey and Keszei).

The most impressive part of this season was that the team had only five senior wrestlers (one being captain Jeff Koepkey) out of a total of nineteen on varsity.

Tigerfish take Conference; Weisser state champ again

A young swim team, under Coach Dave Dunlap, turned what was supposed to be a rebuilding year into an impressive season. The Tigerfish emerged from the State Meet with a third place finish, with junior Steve Weisser capturing two events, the 100 freestyle in a state record time of :47.8 and the 50 free in :22.2. Dunlap's squad compiled a 15-2 dual meet record, losing only to eventual state champion Munster and runner-up Adams.

The Tigerfish also won the last NIVC Crown and dominated the fifth and final meet. Other 'Fish accomplishments were second place finishes in the city and sectional meets, with Adams edging out the Tigers in both. This year's team was a young one, with 28 of the 32 members underclassmen. The 'Fish next year will have to fill gaps left by senior divers Dan Lysohir and Brent Petty, Captain John Hugus, and Jim Petty.

CAPTAIN John Hugus excelled in butterfly, freestyle, and I-M.

Even though the girls' swim team was smaller than usual this year, it continued its winning ways. Junior Marnie Brehmer broke records in the 100-yard backstroke and 50 and 100 freestyle races. Captain of the Tigertunas was Darcy Midla, who was a mainstay especially in 200 and 400 freestyle. The diving squad was praised by Coach Brenda Gross as "the strongest in the four years I've been here." Mr. Chauncey Fahey, father of Mary and Nancy Fahey, built a girls' record board to be placed on the wall in the pool area. The season record was 7-14.

Track team runs away with third city crown

“So now it’s Bill Schlundt and his Jackson Tigers showing their heels to everyone—and time is against them.”—South Bend Tribune.

Besides winning the city meet for the third year in a row, the varsity track team won their first conference title and had their best season ever, winning 9 meets and losing only to state power Gary West Side. They also won the Concord Relays for the third year in a row. The B-team, coached by Larry Morningstar, had an 8-2 record. Senior Dan Landman was undefeated in the 880-yard run, and his only loss in the mile came at the state meet, where he finished second.

The season was not, however, all roses. At the Concord Relays, Roy Tepe pulled a leg muscle and was out most of the remaining season. A few events later, in almost the same spot, the same thing happened to Mike Bennett. But even when misfortune struck, the team spirit remained strong.

Terry Bartell leads 1973 baseball team

Overshadowing a 13-13 record for the 1973 regular season was the outstanding individual performance of Terry Bartell. During his senior year, Terry set eight season records out of a possible twenty-four. Among them are most doubles, most stolen bases, highest total offensive points, most strike outs pitched, and highest fielding percentage. Terry holds eight career records, which account for forty per cent of the Jackson records in this department. Among these career records are most total offensive points, most stolen bases, and most strike outs pitched.

Other outstanding players were Dick Butler, who won the Kiwanis award and Terry Thomas, who led the team in put outs.

Golfers slice up opponents and clinch conference crown

The 1973 golf season under the direction of Mr. James Peterson ended with a 17-4 record, and the Tigers were knotted in first place with LaSalle for the conference crown. Under the leadership of team captain Bob Cohen and most valuable player Bruce Knutson, the Tigers went undefeated at Erskine Golf Course. The Tigers averaged 316.8 strokes per game as opposed to 325.0 for their opponents. The best team performance for the season was turned in against Penn as the Tigers beat the Kingsmen 297 to 301.

The Tigers finished second in the sectional, only one stroke behind Adams who later went on to win the state title. A fine individual performance was turned in by Bob Cohen as he finished as co-medalist in the sectional. The Tigers went on to finish fifth in the regional.

We are people learning to make decisions at Jackson High School. Decisions range from trivial issues like topics of themes to those that may influence us for the rest of our lives such as the decision to go or not to go to college.

Whether we realize it or not, our ideals are influenced by the people who surround us the most, teachers, parents, counselors, the administration, and friends. We are people learning to make decisions in today's world—about Watergate, the Middle East, Nixon's emergency energy crisis legislation. We learn to take on responsibilities for ourselves such as turning thermostats down in our homes, school, and places of business, and trying to conserve gasoline by driving fifty miles per hour on the highways.

These issues influence people all over the world, as well as us at Jackson, students and faculty alike. We are featured in the following section as today's youth. Take a good look at us, for we are the decision-makers of tomorrow.

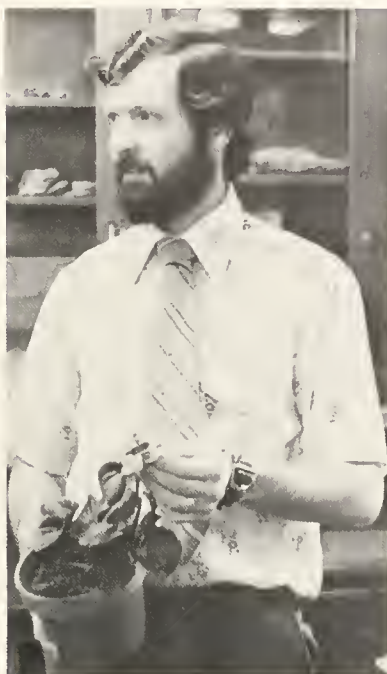

JAMES L. EARLY . . . Principal . . .
 "In the transition period in development of plans for the combination of Jackson-Riley school districts, the primary objective is the maintenance of a wholesome, stimulating environment conducive to a sound and beneficial educational program for all students in the combined districts."

make stage debut in 'The Music Man'

Eleven teachers had parts in "The Music Man," and at least four others were involved, supervising the making of costumes, building and painting of sets, and typing the program. Band teacher Mr. Terry Dawson delighted the audience in his role of a traveling salesman who flirts with the heroine and then cries "Bully!" as the hero knocks him down.

Mr. Ken Hanig, English teacher, and Mr. Harold Kottlowski, orchestra director, played violin in the pit orchestra for the musical as Mr. Dan Miller, vocal teacher, played the piano and Mr. T. J. DeShone, band teacher, directed. Behind it all loomed the outstanding show's director/designer, Mr. John H. B. Kauss, English teacher.

ZOETSA DALE . . . English 1, Spanish 2 . . . "The best faculty and best students to be found anywhere are here at Jackson."

FAYE NELSON . . . English 3, Speech . . . Manuscript adviser . . . "The Music Man" proved that getting involved is still the secret of self-satisfaction."

FRANCES SMITH . . . English 3,4 . . . "To love, to learn and to teach brings happiness, contentment and stacks of papers to grade."

JOHN H. B. KAUSS . . . English 2,3 . . . Drama director . . . "Dost thou love life? Then do not squander time, for that's the stuff life is made of."—Poor Richard GLORIA MURPHY . . . English 1,2,3 . . . Booster Club sponsor . . . "Language is man's greatest achievement. I am glad to be a part of this aspect of education."

STELLA THOMAS (center) . . . English 4 . . . "Today well lived makes every yesterday a dream of happiness and every tomorrow a vision of hope."

GENEVIEVE HARRIS (center right) . . . English 2 . . . "You've got to love life to have life, and you've got to have life to love life."

Teachers have wide variety of interests

The interests and abilities of the Jackson teachers cover a broad range of activities and pastimes. One teacher, Mr. Dennis Bodle, built his own house, while Mr. Robert Harke is an interior decorator. Mr. Robert Taylor serves on the City Council as a representative from the Fifth District. One of Mrs. Stella Thomas's favorite pastimes is baking Greek pastries. Several Jackson teachers teach Sunday School classes or sing in church choirs.

RUTH ANN SMITH . . . Art . . . Art club sponsor . . . "My room isn't cold; it's stimulating."

CHARLOTTE MIKEL (above) . . . Main Office secretary . . . "The words I say often are: 'Good morning, Jackson High School.' The promptness, attentiveness and courtesy on our telephone express our 'Southern hospitality.'"

MARY WIDNER . . . Attendance secretary . . . "Work, work, work."

Staff survive higher prices and less heat

Rising prices of food and dwindling supplies of fuel plagued the kitchen staff and custodians with unparalleled headaches. Students realized on the first day of school their lunch budgets needed to be increased to compensate for the price hike in the plate lunches and ala carte items. The students also found the temperature in their classrooms during winter a few degrees lower than last year because of the energy crisis. Mrs. Eileen Stevens, cafeteria supervisor, kept the kitchen orderly and the price of chocolate chip cookies at 5 cents. Mr. Oscar Brandenburg, building engineer, coordinated efforts to conserve energy by turning the lights on later and then turning them off earlier every day. Custodians kept the building and grounds in proper order while all athletic wear and towels were clean on a moment's notice by the laundresses.

DANIEL MILLER (center) . . . Vocal Music . . . "Any day is a good day to make music."
THOMAS DESHONE . . . Band Director . . . Pep Band . . . "Jackson High School is the most fantastic school to be a part of."

Senior class 'concerned about future'

Charles Francis Kettering once said "We should all be concerned about the future because we will have to spend the rest of our lives there." Seniors found that the future suddenly wasn't so far off. They prepared by taking personally relevant courses: family living, business, or college prep. Seniors polished their talents in the arts by collectively being the core in singing, playing, acting, writing, and creating. And on weekends, many were concerned with a more immediate future; who's driving to Michigan, where's the party, and will the job get in the way?

The Junior Class demonstrated their spirit and ambition early in the year with a bake sale at Thrifti-Mart that netted over $150. The sale was one of several projects designed to raise money for the Junior Prom, which was the first formal affair ever for many juniors.

Also part of the activities of the school year were thoughts of college and career. College-bound juniors found campus visits, talks with representatives and the SAT test all part of the complications of choosing a college.

Sophs ponder dilemma over Jackson rings

Those who happened to be sophomores at Jackson this year had a certain wistful quality. "Why did it have to be us?" they sometimes asked. They were the ones who would change schools for their senior year. They were the ones who couldn't decide on a design for a class ring. Should it be Jackson or Riley or a combination? They even had a choice of transferring to Riley this year or next, but they stayed on at Jackson and put off the eventual shift of allegiance. One more year of familiar surroundings, and then, who knows? By 1975 it might be nice to meet new friends in a new

Loss of Marshall depletes Freshman ranks

Although they were the smallest class (308), the freshmen proved to be valuable additions to Jackson. They were involved in everything from the varsity swim team to the Jackson-Riley consolidation advisory council. The freshman class will spend only one more year as Jacksonites since they will attend Riley during their Junior and Senior years. A number of freshmen took part in Jackson's productions of "The Music Man" and "Dunderhead." During the Thanksgiving Basket Drive they contributed more food and money than any other class—a total of 1,154 pounds and $22 in donations. Mr. Dave Dunlap's homeroom (216) led in the drive with 290 pounds.

THE BEST OF ADVERTISERS

Scottsdale Mall opened in August of 1973 and gave to the South Bend community its first enclosed, climate-controlled two-level mall. Scottsdale was meant to be more than a center of merchandising . . . it was to be a facility for community service, social activity and public betterment. Scottsdale was designed and created as the nation's finest example in proper and efficient land use to serve people. Scottsdale was to be the "People Place."

Something was always going on in the "world" of Scottsdale Mall . . . An Antique Show . . . A Grand Bazaar . . . Bill Emmer-ton . . . the Frosty Follies . . . or even a Senior Prom.

Yes. Life has been more interesting with the coming of Scottsdale Mall.

Businesses provide community with foods, gifts, services

Area businesses were not only sources for goods and services but also employers of hundreds of Jackson students as sales clerks, stock persons, waitresses, and mechanics. Youth buying power reached an apparent all-time high as more than 50 per cent of Jacksonites held part time jobs. Most juniors and seniors left school at 2:15 p.m. for the real world of selling, repairing, or waiting tables. And when the paychecks came, they hurried to the other side of the counter to become the buyers, the discriminating consumers of food, fashions, and fun.

FLOWERS BY STEPHEN, 4325 S. Michigan, provides prompt service, twin city delivery on floral arrangements to suit every taste. Joni Boswell admires.

SHAKEY'S PIZZA and Ye Old Public House at 323 E. Ireland Rd., serves fun (also pizza). You get a "bunch of lunch" for only $1.92. Plenty of parking.

AT BROADMOOR BARBER SHOP, Mark Roth knows his hair is in good hands. For an appointment call 291-2044, or just come in any time. In the Broadmoor Shopping Center.

BUTCHER BLOCK, in the Ireland Plaza, specializes in service and a complete line of meats. Keeping up the high standards are Todd Felhaber and Dave Forsythe.

FORD'S DAIRY QUEEN is still the most popular meeting-place on the southeast side of town. Where else can you cool off with a frosty treat at such a low price?

HANS-BURKART Pharmacy, 2805 S. Michigan, fill prescriptions promptly. And Jim Kurapka also likes their paperback book section.

CIRA'S GROCERY, 2904 S. Michigan, is a great place to buy milk—and meat—and fresh produce—and lots of other good things to eat. Just ask Tom Welsh.

MOONEY'S MARKET is popular with Greene Township food shoppers because of its friendly service and convenient location at Ireland and Mayflower Roads. Kim Wasoski and Ken Shreve help a customer.

River Bend Plaza is shaping up downtown

DICK & COMPANY has prime and choice steaks and chops, hams and smoked bacon. To balance the food budget, Dick says, "Buy 'em by the box — quarters, halves, or cuts. Liquid nitrogen frozen."

J.E. WALZ is newly rebuilt and it's full of beautiful furniture and appliance buys. Enter from either Michigan or Main Street entrance 3423 S. Michigan St.

ROBERTSON'S window looks inviting to a fashion-minded shopper like Nancy Sutton as she enters through the adjoining parking garage — in the center of River Bend Plaza.

VAN HORNE & CO. JEWELERS

FOR ORANGE BLOSSOM diamond rings, Girard Perregaux Quartz watches, or Accutron watches, the place to go is Van Horne at 105 W. Washington. (River Bend Plaza)

INWOOD'S STORE is full of gift possibilities, as well as garden supplies, cut flowers, and kitchen needs. Karen Waschkie admires a vase.

CARL'S SUPER MARKET at 61024 U.S. 31 South prides itself on quality meats. Matt Davis finds it handy to stop there after school for snacks too.

SHOELAND SOUTH at 4321 S. Michigan St. has everything in footwear from wing tips to tennis shoes. Mark Rosheck prefers tennis shoes.

CHIPPEWA LANES is the meeting place for all the best Southeast side bowlers. Here Don Brown displays rare form.

Zehring Studio loves weddings

WE'VE ONLY JUST BEGUN . . . as with Susan Enyart and Doug Richardson. From high school through engagement portraits on through the wedding day, Zehring Studio will add that "Personal Touch" to help capture and hold forever the excitement of those special occasions in your lives. Call 255-4121.

"LET HALL DO YOUR HAULING!" is the advice of Kim and Kirk Hall, and they ought to know. Call Maury Hall at 288-4411. He's the second generation of moving know-how at L.L. Hall. Also agent for North American Van Lines.

MR. FLOYD KUZAN satisfies his taste for something cool and refreshing with the traditional bottle of Coke . . . from the Coca Cola Bottling Company of South Bend.

MARIONETTE SHOP customers are well served by Jill Van Camp. The children's wear store owned by Mrs. David Dunlap, is located at 2212 Miami.

BERRY'S TV SERVICE, at 22869 Road 23, has a good selection of Zenith, Admiral and other fine TV sets. Ask for Gary.

BERG'S JEWELERS, 109 W. Jefferson, are registered jewelers who have supplied eight classes of Jacksonites with school rings.

We would like to express our appreciation to many persons who have contributed to the 1974 Jacksonian: Mr. Dick Kennard, Newsfoto representative; the South Bend Tribune for the use of pictures on pages 26-29; Gene Zehring of Zehring Studio; Jon Meek, a 1973 JHS graduate, for a color picture on page 5; Chris Hall, a 1972 JHS graduate, for the ad picture on page 163; our understanding faculty; and especially to Mrs. Lois Claus, without whom this yearbook would not have been possible.
